

No Refuge In The Night

In Strict Confidence

From my stronghold on the mountain,
I am staring at the sea
Is the ferryman my saviour,
Will he bring you back to me?

Where have you gone?
How could you escape from here?
Where can you be?
How could you just disappear?

There is no chance for you my lovely
There is no refuge in the night
They will find you, and they will take you
Back to stay here at my side

Are you hidden under water?
Are you lost in labyrinths?
Are you stretched upon the mountain,
Waiting for my poisonous kiss?

Where have you gone?
How could you escape from here?
Where can you be?
How could you just disappear?

There is no chance for you my lovely
There is no refuge in the night
They will find you, and they will take you
Back to stay here at my side

I would give my life, my freedom
All I want is to have you back
Rely my warlords, search my kingdom
Find my beauty and untouched
