

Born in Flames

In This Moment

I can feel that you're hurting
I feel it in your eyes
A familiar sting I always recognize
You don't speak a word
But I can hear what you're saying
I watch as you burn and come back to life again

And don't you know
That we are gods
And holy blood
Runs through our veins
And don't you know
That you're a king
Raised by queens
Born in flames

I can see that you're changing
Something's taking hold
I watched you harness your demons
You're starting to take control

You know you are me
And I know I am you
And I promised you someday our pain would-
Pull us through

And don't you know
That we are gods
And holy blood
Runs through our veins
And don't you know
That you're a king
Raised by queens
Born in flames

And don't you know
That we are gods
And holy blood
Runs through our veins
And don't you know
That you're a king
Raised by queens
Born in flames

Born in flames
Don't you know, born in flames
