

Everybody Knows

Inara George

Won't you do what you are wanting?
Won't you lay down relax,
Your face is not well.
From such a face it is beginning.
Are you turning red now?
Will you ever be the same?

Everybody knows
Everybody knows
When will you know?
When will you know?

Could you sit with me forever?
Could you sit with me forever?
We could count the days.
Are you saving up your faces?
Are you turning to the side?
Are you making up your mind,
Making up your mind.

Everybody knows
Everybody knows
When will you know?
When will you know?

And even when you laugh
You hold your mouth
Like what you have to say
Won't fit into this place.
I'd like to kiss your mouth
So you won't have to speak out loud
I know what you want to say

Everybody knows
Everybody knows
When will you know?
When will you know?
