

Erase Myself

Incendiary

Bleeding out the cancer from within
Grin and bear the pain beneath my skin
No past, no future
Healing scars with no sutures

Nowhere near where I need to be
This city's weighing down on me
I fill my time with wasting time
With my choices on the line to decide

Remove my insides, replace them with steel
Weakness is the enemy
And is defeated when I no longer feel

Cut the rope, so I can breathe
I'm losing my mind while I'm speaking it
And I mean every fucking word

Wasting away, rot and decay, erase myself