

The cycle's never ending
All the time that we've been spending
Searching for others blessings
Averting eyes while the sun is setting
With the tick of the clock I feel the hardening Expel the weakness inside, rid of the poisoning
I see the darkness setting in

Pray to deliver us from our evil ways but we're still waiting
I keep my demons inside because where we're going I'll fucking
need them
We've all been crossed, all been written off
But now I made my mark that you can't erase

Dark ages will return
Prepare yourself for the earth to burn
Dark ages will return
Prepare yourself for the Earth to fucking drown
And see the storm of vengeance now

Pray to deliver us from our evil ways but we're still waiting
I keep my demons inside because where we're going I'll fucking
need them

Dark ages will return
Prepare yourself for the earth to burn
