Under Siege

Indecision

desparate and famished scourged and suicidal live and die by the sword fall victim to your idols tortured by despair smoldering in desparation suffer and burn alive in the flames of desolation
under siege
these truths are seen through the eyes of a dying world the die has been cast the final solution drawn end this fear we?ve lived in like societies pawns with negligen t abandon I've watched with content eyes destroying their greed shatter their ambitious lies these truths are seen through the eyes of a dying world
