I won't
Live inside this
Virus
Of my hope
Turn the page to
Save you
From my own
I can see you dripping from the walls

Without me the writing on the wall won't scream
With me always living with guilt of envy
Without me the writing on the wall won't scream
With me always living with guilt of envy

I keep hearing your voice
It echoes from far away
I won't
Ever know how
You're now
Your tongue is
Venom's cobber
Ninety ends I guess
I can see you dripping from the walls

Without me the writing on the wall won't scream
With me always living with guilt of envy
Without me the writing on the wall won't scream
With me always living with guilt of envy
Without me

Without me the writing on the wall won't scream
With me always living with guilt of envy
Without me the writing on the wall won't scream
With me always living with guilt of envy
