

Uncovered

Indica

I remember how you breathe, I feel your heartbeat
Tell me have we met before
Something in the way you move
A cloud across the moon, a vessel looking for the shore

Do you know me, really know me?
Are you passing by?

I've been waiting for a lover to see me like no other
There's a road to be discovered, I'm dying to be uncovered

Image hidden in the clay, words in melody
I get it and I don't at once
Keep it secret and exposed
'Cause when I get too close, I feel it and it makes me numb

Do you know me, really know me?
Are you passing by?

I've been waiting for a lover to see me like no other
There's a road to be discovered, I'm dying to be uncovered

Uncovered
I want to show you all my colors

Underneath it all, lies the naked truth
Speaking through me speaking through you
I want to show you all my colors

I'm waiting

I've been waiting for a lover to see me like no other
There's a road to be discovered, I'm dying to be uncovered, uncovered, uncovered
