Drowning In The Chalice Of Sin

Infernal

Sodom and Gomorrah, cities of freedom God killed everyone, men, women and children Just because the people were healthy, body and soul His envy sent a storm of sulphur and fire

They tilled the ground without fear or greed And didn't need any sacred priests or rites The tables were always full of bread and wine No god would come before their liberty

So god himself verified That in Sodom and Gomorrah There were no temples or churches No one there would praise him

This same god who built a mountain of corpses Forgave just one family who didn't live in freedom Father, mother and two daughters, they ran away They would still live under god's laws

God was surprised when the woman turned her head And witnessed his worlk of devastation and death He couldn't afford this kind of insurrection And turned the woman into a statue of salt

And the real sinners still lived on For god is really the great deceiver The daughters put their father drunk To reach the ecstasy, of the carnal desire

So god himself verified That in Sodom and Gomorrah There were no temples or churches No one there would praise him
