

Nothing Greater

Informatik

What is life supposed to mean?
A mystery?
Some mystery.

Who am I supposed to be?
Who am I to be?
Anything?
Is this real or just a dream
Or do I know or just believe
All these feelings that I fear reality?
My eyes are open now I see
With the utmost certainty
That time is leading
It slips away

There is nothing greater than this
No other place or time I know
There is nowhere I'd rather be so why ask for
Why ask for more

So many things to do and see
For me to know, for me to be
I never realized 'til now
What this life means
Means to me

Relive a lie and die each day pretending it's not happening
but we need it
we all need it to believe

Somebody out there help me please
Give me some peace and set me free
Stop me from making the same mistakes

There is nothing greater than this
No other place or time I know
There is nowhere I'd rather be so why ask for
Why ask for more

What is a worry
There is no hurry
These are the stories of our lives

The moment, the glory
The sound and the fury
These are the stories of our lives

Nothing greater than this
Nothing greater than this

Stop dreaming of fictitious places
Just take a look around
Everything you want is right here
Everything you need is now
Everything is yours to try
You are free to change your mind

You don't need a reason why
To spread your wings and touch the sky
