Don't touch the devil cuz the devil will remember you
Don't touch the devil cuz the devil will remember you
Don't touch the devil cuz the devil will remember you
You and I are walking through a galaxy empty of sound

I can do it again
It's not so bad
I can push myself through
And not go mad

I can do it again
I can make it across
I can lose another digit
And not get lost

I can push myself in
And I can make it back
I can throw all the switches
Before I crack

I can reach up and fly
I can climb the spire
I can square the circle
Set myself on fire

Don't touch the devil cuz the devil will remember you
Don't touch the devil cuz the devil will remember you
Don't touch the devil cuz the devil will remember you
I can see the future with my mind closed now infinitely twisted

A glaring flash
An ominous glow
A heavy ripping sound
And a glancing blow

Three small spikes
Microscopic chain
A sense of dread
And a stabbing pain

Each thing I see
Has a sound and form
I can see them fit together
But nothing is born

I see too much
Too much to wait
And I only see the pattern
When it's far too late

Blaze
Spin
Reach
Fly

I am more than anything everything so much more so more white light spinning that's me that's me spin spin spin nothing higher than me I'm me I'm it I'm at the center the center of everything world spins when I spin spin spin

Don't touch the devil cuz the devil will remember you
Walking down the hall I see the men in suits coming for me

A long time ago
When I still had wings
I heard a story about myself:
I had returned to human form

And every line of poetry
Became true
And took on a physical form
The word made flesh

I want that and this goes here and those are alike and these, these are mine
! synergy is stupid everything must run through me through me through me eve rything is everywhere and all of it is mine break my spin my spin is down do wn down down down
