A Path Once Lost

Ingested

I know how it feels
Temptation strays me further
I've shown what it steals
Begging for a saviour
Drifting still, I'm waiting
Deep down, I am suffocating

I know how it feels
Temptation strays me further
I've shown what it steals
Begging for a saviour
Drifting still, I'm waiting
Deep down, I am suffocating
But I am falling faster with you
This body lies broken in two

You deal your hand while I'm dealing with death
Not a single moment's thought before I've taken a breath
I've barely gathered my thoughts before I'm forced to mourn
Brain and body, both shattered while the coffin's still warm

I know how it feels
Temptation strays me further
Further
I've shown what it steals
Begging for a saviour
A saviour

Will you show me the way for the path once lost?
I will slowly fade, no matter the cost
Will you show me the way for the path once lost?
Or will you watch me die?
The line's already been crossed
Will you show me the way for the path once lost?
I will slowly fade, no matter the cost
Can I find my own way to the path I've lost?
We are the souls that fall

I know how it feels
Temptation strays me further
Further
I've shown what it steals
Begging for a saviour
A saviour

Will you show me the way for the path once lost?
I will slowly fade, no matter the cost
Will you show me the way for the path once lost?
Or will you watch me die?
The line's already been crossed
Will you show me the way for the path once lost?
I will slowly fade, no matter the cost
Can I find my own way to the path I've lost?
We are the souls that fall

Will you show me the way for the path once lost?
I will slowly fade, no matter the cost

Can I find my own way to the path I've lost?
We are the souls that fall

Stand up, stare hard into my eyes
It's clear you'll see no fucking lies
Your veins bleed black, your soul is doomed
Deceit pours out from every wound
I'd break my back to fill a glass
Condemn myself till the time has passed
I see the signs, you're tortured too
Just cut yourself and see it through
