In Nothingness

Ingested

All men created equal
No chance in hell
Inconsequential evil
Burn it down to the ground
Burn it down

I reside in nothingness
I reside where nobody can find me
I reject my punishment
When I speak, hell speaks through me

I know that I'm to blame
I light the match, my world's in flames
We stand upon the ashes
Weight of the world is just too much
The curse reversed like Midas touch
But everything I hold just turns to dust

Bring forth the decayed
Wretched and depraved
Bring forth the hopeless and worthless
Unwanted who need to be saved

The constant echoing
It's all too much, this is my reckoning
Crawl from my grave, cold and afraid
Bound by my fate, I'm enslaved
Once bitten, twice as shy
Fall into place, follow the lie
Fixed where I stand broken by my own hand
Ruin rains down from the sky

I reside in nothingness
I reside where nobody can find me
I reject my punishment
When I speak, hell speaks through me

I speak through gritted teeth
The man I am, I push beneath
Some are forced to feed from the bottom
I refuse to reside with the rest of the scum
Scum

I know that I'm to blame
I light the match, my world's in flames
We stand upon the ashes
Weight of the world is just too much
The curse reversed like Midas touch
But everything I hold just turns to dust

The screams, the constant echoing
It's all too much, this is my reckoning
Crawl from my grave, cold and afraid
Bound by my fate, I'm enslaved
Once bitten, twice as shy
Fall into place, follow the lie
Fixed where I stand, broken by my own hand

Ruin rains down from the sky

By my own hand
Ruin rains down
Down from the sky
Ruin rains down

All men created equal
No chance in hell
Inconsequential evil
Burn it down to the ground
Burn it down
