

The Crimson Oath

Ingested

Passive aggressive, I'll pass on this message
Sown like a seed as I sift through the wreckage
Of lives I've left cold with the lies that I've told
You can't even deny that my skills are impressive
I'll just paint on these faces, and gamble all on aces Addicted to the danger but I cover all my traces Never get caught, 'cause the cost is the balance
Cheque signed in blood in payment for my talents
I'm the killer of your dreams, assassin of your heart
There is romance in the air when I tear them apart
One by one, limb from limb, make a crown from their bones
So I look like a king when I sit on my throne
The blood of the covenant
Is thicker than the waters of the womb
The crimson oath
Break it, forever atone

Beg for mercy from the kings
As we sit on our thrones
Orchestrate and manipulate, that's key to my method
If I see something I want, best believe me I'll get it
I'll get inside, infiltrate, like the horse and the Trojans
I'm like Cupid with the bow, but my arrow's poisoned
This is, the principle not just for the thrill
You'll be the first one that I catch but you're the last one I' ll kill
I've got twenty-two names and I will get every one
I will send a message so you know what I've done

What I've done
Twenty-two names and I will get every one
You made a deal with the Devil now I own your soul, you cannot replace me, I broke the mold
All the lies, the deceit, fuck the truths that I've told
Who needs a silver tongue, when I've got gold
I broke the mold
Who needs a silver tongue, when I've got gold

One more prayer, one more penance
I am game for the lashes
What we lose in the fire, we find in the lashes
