

You'll Never Learn

Ingested

I found peace in disbelief
In my mind and memories
As you shield yourself inside constant hostility
Your absence insignificant
Rot inside your weakness
You will grieve forever 'cos this is the pain that you reaped

Look closely, and now you see
How will you learn to live with it?
You will never heal, or rebuild yourself some dignity
Psychopathology, infamy, irony
Everything aside, from your ethics and integrity

You'll never learn
Still stuck inside your process
Our loyalty earned
We wonder what you'll confess
You'll never learn
It's time to pay the debt
Our loyalty earned
Move on and just forget

Make the most of your regrets
I hope you smother in sorrow
This is your malevolence
Can you face tomorrow?
Try to escape, climb into their minds
Search through all their memories and you know what you'll find

Remnants of fertility
In their minds and memories
They were just a target of their vulnerability
Your presence caused their sickness
Sate your appetite
You will grieve forever 'cos this is the pain that you reaped

It remains the same
Gorging into misery, day after day
You won't learn to live with it
It remains the same
Watch as your existence, begins to decay

Hard years and all that was built
You made the choice, now deal with the guilt
You'll never learn
It's time to pay the debt
Our loyalty earned
Move on and just forget

Make the most of your regrets
I hope you smother in sorrow
This is your malevolence
Will you face tomorrow?
Try to escape, climb out of your mind
Remove the mask and tell the truth, we all know what's behind

We will not accept this from you

Look closely, and you will see
My unavoidable fury with fuck all empathy
I have mastered, living unrestrained
This song is ending for you, but the melody remains
This song is ending for you, but the melody remains
Prepare to see my unavoidable fury, with fuck all empathy
