

Wake

Inglorious

Your light is all that I see
As I stare into the rain
Though it hurts I will try
To make sense of why

Try to hold a candle
From my heart that's sad today
And you touch me and say
Why you're going away

And I drown in your wake!
Your wake!
I'm riding waves!
We all get lost in your wake

I thought I heard you laughing
What I feel I can't explain
What you left here inside
What was yours once was mine

And I drown in your wake!
Your wake!
I'm riding waves!
We all get lost in your wake

I watched you from the shore
I dreamed I'd catch you out once more
Before the tide rolled you away
All I hope it is for you to be safe and warm and tell me you're ok

And I drown in your wake!
I'm riding waves!
We all get lost in your wake
Your wake!
We all get lost your wake
Your wake!
We all get lost in your wake
