

Magnolia Me

Ingram Hill

You wrote all your notes and you made your plans
Leaving your head in the clouds
You settled your heart on a rambling man
But all that you're wondering now

When your time is coming
But I gave you my word
It's just all you're expecting from me
Borders on the absurd

If you feel that you're waiting for nothing
And some time might be good on your own
But when I finally see what I came here to see
I'll get back to magnolia me, oh yeah

You say that your time and your patience has worn thin
And I am quite sure it's no lie
You long for a home and a yard full of kids
But I know it's not the right time

We'll I guess it's not fitting
When I can't raise myself
But I just can't stand you living, no
With somebody else

If you feel that you're waiting for nothing
And some time might be good on your own
But when I finally see what I came here to see
I'll get back to magnolia me

I know you're scared
Oh but I'm gonna try
Cause I've got a plan of my own
I never quite said
What you wanna hear
But I never will leave you alone

If you feel that you're waiting for nothing
And some time might be good on your own
When I finally see what I came here to see
I'll get back to magnolia me

Oh when I finally see what I came here to see
I'll get back to magnolia me
