Oh I think I got you figured out Boy I think I know what you are all about Finally I can finally see You pull the darkness right down over me But now I see Everybody knows that I'm a mess Everybody knows you stole the heart from out my chest Everything you ever said was a lie You're hiding behind your sweet your sweet goodbyes I'm black and blue 'cause I fell for you You said you never would let me go Oh how could I ever know I'm black and blue And in love with you You said, you never would let me fall You never would let me fall, but I'm falling You never would let me fall, you never would let me fall, but I'm falling Oh I know I'm never gonna stop I keep burning time away until I hit the top One day I'll wake up and take up to the open skies And I'll be the one with all the sweet goodbyes I'm black and blue 'cause I fell for you You said you never would let me go Oh how could I ever know I'm black and blue And in love with you You said, you never would let me fall You never would let me fall, but I'm falling You never would let me fall, you never would let me fall, but I'm falling Falling, falling Over and over, over and over again I'm always falling Over and over But I'll get up, I'll make it I need some time to unbreak it I feel like, I'm falling, I'm falling far away from you It's what I need to do Black and blue and in love with you Black and blue and in love with you You said, you never would let me fall You never would let me fall, but I'm falling You never would let me fall You never would let me fall, but I'm falling You never would let me fall

You never would let me fall, but I'm falling

I'm falling
Black and blue
It's what I need to do
