

The Dark Goddess

Inkubus Sukkubus

It is the darkest hour of the night
And it will be filled with blood and fire
She said be quick before, I am gone
For I shall fade in the morning sun.

She said act now while you can,
While you can and are still a man,
Because time will come, crueler than death
Before death comes to claim the rest.

Yeah, oh yeah, you better believe it,
The sweetest angel is the most evil.

She said kiss me, I'm a phantom born of desire
And I shall make of you a man and a child.
She said place your hand upon my breast
For I will be gone before the dawn's first breath.

Yeah, oh yeah, you better believe it,
The sweetest angel is the most evil.
There is a darkness in this dream goddess
and the most beautiful in the cruelest.

There is now and there is tonight
And tomorrow is an unwritten page
Do it now while you are of age
Before sorrow writes tomorrow's page.

2x

Yeah, oh yeah, you better believe it,
The sweetest angel is the most evil.
There is a darkness in this dream goddess
and the most beautiful in the cruelest.
