InMe

And I know you inside out
When I'm lost I'm found in your sound
You're the secret that drowns my doubt
You break my fall before I hit the ground

You keep my days in colour
I open my hope & you flood her
And hope is but a strong ship
She copes through storms & hardship

So I float up like a bubble to be lost & never found with my head in the clouds
Swim away from the noise & the swarming crowds like a shoal of fish

I finally know my destination
My sacrifice will be my only salvation

And I miss those early days
But I cannot say I've changed all my ways
Staying the same has such a cost to pay
And this rainbow's turning grey

We are super heroes in disguise
Another bird falls to the ground as the mother cries
