

Heavy

Inner City

So release at the tone
Not too scared to be real
But when we're alone
I know you feel like you're home
Every time you need space
You can beg all you want
But if you need a place
I'll be your hideaway, oh

I know you better than you
I know when you're hiding the truth
I'm not afraid of the load that you carry

When the world is bringing you down, I'll catch you underneath
When your shit gets heavy, let me hold you steady
And if you fall [?] feet
When it gets too heavy, let me hold you steady

Just put your weight on me, me, me
Put your weight on me, me, me
Put your weight on me
Put your weight on me
So put your weight on me, me, me
Put your weight on me, me, me
Put your weight on me
Put your weight on me

Player in the dark
All these clothes, they come off
When I see all your scars
Put my hand on my heart, I tell you
I never touch you like that
The things that you've done in the past
Love how you're building your path
Don't you worry

When the world is bringing you down, I'll catch you underneath
When your shit gets heavy, let me hold you steady
And if you fall [?] feet
When it gets too heavy, let me hold you steady

Just put your weight on me, me, me
Put your weight on me, me, me
Put your weight on me
Put your weight on me
So put your weight on me, me, me
Put your weight on me, me, me
Put your weight on me
Put your weight on me

Put your weight on me
Put your weight on me

Just put your weight on me, me, me
Put your weight on me, me, me
Put your weight on me
Put your weight on me

So put your weight on me, me, me
Put your weight on me, me, me
Put your weight on me
Put your weight on me