

Did you like me more
When I was young?
I hid my heart and tried to love
I was incomplete and insecure
I cared too much of what they'd know

Content as can be no end in sight
Nothing's gone wrong so nothing can go right

I refuse to believe it isn't pure
I only wish to make it work
If I could earn you back with just a song I'd sing until I could no more

I need a place to sleep
Place to rest my head
Do you have a home?
Can I stay there instead?
I used to know who you were
Used to call you by name
Unpredictable life is
You can count on change

I can't sleep at night
I wonder tons
