

Was supposed to be a casual arrangement
Now I feel as though I'm constantly complaining
That don't make it right if it makes you feel good
That don't make it right if it makes you feel good

Trying hard to keep the rules that we established
Sometimes it seems like you're the lead and I'm the ad-lib
That don't make it right if it makes you feel good
That don't make it right if it makes you feel good

[Male:] I love you

[Female:] Roger, you've got to stop this, you're acting like a baby. I can't see you now and that's that

[Male:] Well then, talk to me, say something, say anything

[Female:] Say something?

Was supposed to be a casual arrangement
Now I feel as though I'm constantly complaining
That don't make it right if it makes you feel good
That don't make it right if it makes you feel good

Used to wake up feeling like I won the lotto
Out of sight out of mind, that's the motto
That don't make it right if it makes you feel good
That don't make it right if it makes you feel good

Alright Roger, I'll say something. Why don't you take a flying jump at the moon?
