

The Beginning

Inner Wave

I've watched the colors fly high as can be
And I've seen your wandering eye gaze over me
It changes day by day, that's what I think
I see those days when we were young going away

I've watched it pass on by, I've never said a word
Now regret comes to mind and, oh, how it hurts
No more escaping this, I gotta leave my mark
And if forever takes, forever takes too long I'll let you know

No more escaping this, I gotta leave my mark
And if forever takes, forever takes, forever takes forever
I will not let it pass 'cause in my past that's what hurt me the most
So if it takes forever, takes forever, takes forever I'll let you know
