Bleeding Soul

InnerWish

I scream through the night Too much evil to fight Nightmares are in sight I can't stand it, my mind's in confusion.

You spread a bright light I escape from the mist Millions of angels deliver my soul to heaven

I finally found a little peace in my heart Engaged by my willing to risk from the start

Feel all the love in my heart, Follow the sign of the cross be my guide I'm trying to escape from the dark, show me the way Light on the road far from sin I'll open my eyes, and try to believe Time has come, I must reborn Salvation for a bleeding soul

My eyes full of lust Gloomy memories of past Try to relive, got to hold on, relight my fire

If I choose the right way I keep praying every day Will lord hear me now and forever, it's now or never.

I finally found a little peace in my heart. My mind's through a conflict to risk from the start.
