

Dreadful Signs

InnerWish

Deep in your mind something strange growing faster tonight
Your dying emotions review all the dreams you recited.
You'll never forget all these things that left you betrayed Your innocent face now has turned into a masquerade of hate.

Born to love, an unworthy form.
Born to walk for ever alone

We hide the fear, and nobody reckons the consequence.
The crawling years will always be there in our minds
We hide the fear, end when pressure is growing we face.
These deadly signs, the dreadful signs of our lives

The promises broke but the images still punish your mind.
The tears in your eyes testify that your patience has died.
Your thoughts have revealed,
there is nothing to feel, only pain.
Your innocent face now has turned into a masquerade of hate.

You are staring alone, with eyes full of dread
With eyes full of rage
