

The Bitter End

Insomnium

The silent moment right before the Dusk fades away
I open my eyes but the darkness stays
Nightfrost covers the Brittle flowers
Around you
I realize that what I
Dreamt is true

Beauty beyond words
My dearest one
Her light burns my eyes
She is all mine

By these frosty waters I rest by
Your side
I hold you in my arms for the last time
If only I could tell you how I need
Your love
If only you had seen
what I kept in
My heart

Now it's the time of grieving
Reign of sorrow in my heart
All I have ever wanted
Is today forever gone
Bitter is the nightly silence
Bitter till the end of time
The sky grown ever darker
Through now she'll always be mine

I hold you on my arms so tight
I kiss your frozen
Lips for this last time
For the first time
