

The Reclamation

Inter Arma

The lungs of this great Earth have filled with humanity's ashes
A rebellious flame has scorched the body clean
A ravaged land, free from the teeth of the human machine machine
e has given up all secrets
The reclamation can now begin

Rise... from the Earth. Once again claim what is yours.
This new dawn is now the first dawn
This new day is now the first day
The scent of human history has all but been erased, forever
A smoldering memory that only the Earth will remember

The storm clears
The light returns
Illuminating
A charred wasteland

Silence
A world free from
The clutches
Of scathing human furor

The wretched curse
Has been lifted Allowing
A return to times long passed

The final
Resting place
Of civilization
Lies under Unfathomable
Depths of ash
