If You Really Love Nothing

Interpol

If you really love nothing
On what future do we build illusions
If you really love nothing
Do we wait in silent glory
If you really love nothing
What part of betrayal do you wish to deny

When I find my home
The next artery
Splendid I bled my whole life
So it's probably a kiss
Goodbye then

If you really love nothing
Everybody's made up
Everybody's losing
If you really love nothing
Shall we sleep in silent glory
If you really love nothing
How could you be there
You could just leave forever

When I find my home
The next artery
Splendid I bled my whole life
So it's probably a kiss
Goodbye then

You can trace a hole upon your dress

Breath in it's optimal
Reading remember
The week's end grading
Better than seven other men
Wayward from women who break dimension
I know that you could just leave forever

When I find my home
The next artery
Splendid I bled my whole life
So it's gonna be a kiss goodbye then

You can trace a hole upon your dress
And give me goodbye and a kiss
I see you trace that hole upon your chest
Give me goodbye and a kiss
