

Malfeasance

Interpol

There's a devil in your hands, there's a devil in your hands
There's a devil in your hands, that's really not your man
But I'm not speaking for you, you're fine babe, no
There's a devil in your hands, there's a devil in your hands

I don't know what, oh, we died without saying much
So I, malfeasance, malfeasance

There's a devil in your hands, he's wringing out your plans
But I'm not preaching for you, you're fine babe, no
There's a devil in your hands, there's a devil in your hands

I don't know what, oh, we died without saying much
So I, malfeasance, malfeasance
I walk the shore, don't ask me to hide
I lock the door, I won't be denied
I must have seen some part of me that I

I see them be
I see them beneath
I see them beneath me (beneath me, beneath me)

Well I'm not speaking for you, you're fine babe, no
There's a devil in your hands, that's really not your man

Well I don't know what, oh, we lied and not saying much
So I, malfeasance, malfeasance
I walk the shore, don't ask me to hide
I lock the door, I won't be denied
I must have seen some part of me

I see them be
I see them beneath
I see them beneath me
I see them be
I see them beneath me
I see them be
I see them beneath me
Beneath me

Idle eye, the whole world is blind
