

High & Mighty

Into It. Over It.

Breaker, breaker
You're breaking up
Breaker, breaker
You're breaking up
The mistakes I've made are right in front of a face I mistook for you r brother's

This wasn't my finest hour to have lied
But try and see it from my side
Try and see it from my side
Taking lines and cues like you're the scum of the Earth
No future, bad posture, and arrogant, for what it's worth

Breaker, breaker
You're breaking down
Breaker, brake lights on, breaking down
Getting choked out two feet from the ground
You're making good impressions

This wasn't my finest hour to have lied
But try and see it from my side
Try and see it from my side
You're taking lines and cues like you're the scum of the Earth
No future, just an imposter - a product of self-worth

When the cocaine runs out
And all your "friends" hit the skids, we won't be hanging out
On the outside looking in

We want you to know
If you plan to put your future up your nose
Than we've got better things to do
Than be friends with you
Than talk to you
Better things to do than stick up for you

It's bigger than you
It's more important than me
But it's a problem I never want to get a chance to see

Breaker, breaker
You're breaking up
Breaker, breaker
You're breaking up
Breaker, breaker
You're breaking up
High and mighty and out of luck
