

Message From Kathlene

Into It. Over It.

I guess I'll always stop and see you
And we'll run into each other's lives
Yeah, I guess, although it tears me up inside
Every time it burns my eyes with tears

But I know you're worth the pain
I've got so much more to gain by waiting for you

You're going away but you're not going far
So if he decides to leave you alone and crying
You know I'm still here, the faithful one
Waiting for a message from Kathlene
Then I'll come...

Faster
Than I ever thought that I could run
'Cause I
I need you more than I ever thought that I could need someone e lse
Someone else
Someone else
Someone else

I know I will always stop and see you
And we'll run into each other's fucked up lives
Yeah, I guess, although it tears me up inside
Every time it burns my eyes with tears

But your waking up is the start of my lost cause
And then you decide to leave me alone and crying
But you know I'm still here, the faithful one
Waiting for a message from Kathlene
Then I'll come...

Faster
Than I ever thought that I could run
'Cause I
I need you more than I ever thought that I could need someone e lse
Someone else
Someone else
Someone else
