

New Life

Intro

Every once in a while, just when you think things are going to be bad
And things aren't looking good
A new life comes along and saves the day
You gotta keep your head up. This is for my father. Hope you enjoy

I'm tired of listening for the sound of the telephone ringing
Started believing that you're not coming. I want to fly away
I learned your letters when I sat out in the garden while I'm eating
Your boy and your girl run free, nobody's looking, even me
Cause it's all right, it's ok, now. They gotta get a new life

I'm tired of putting myself down. There's a doorbell ringing
Back when the dog is away
Two by two, me and you, to a brand-new place
Cause those chains that you made to Work me, they never lasted no, no, no
Send the bastard to the president
Now the daughter is going to pay my rent
It's gonna be alright
Just let me stay for a while. We're gonna get a new life

Junior your son is on TV, singing a song, yeah
About Marcus, Malcolm and Martin, Elijah
And I think he just said, Nathaniel Geyser

Come God's children, let's make a way, let's make a way to join hands
Together in paradise and always just before your eyes
It's gonna be alright. You can stay for a while
I'm gonna get in a new life

You won't be living here too long - moving on, moving on
To a new life for the living, everybody's got a new song
Now help me sing it. Everybody's needs a new life, once in a while Everybody needs a new life, once in a while
You need a new life, once in a while
You need a new life. Everybody needs a new life
Yes, you do! Yes, you do! A new life, a new life, a new life
