

Some kind of small pale creature lies in wait
Just below the surface
I thought I had escape
But of course I never could
It lives everywhere
It changes everything
How did I ever find this?
Was it always waiting for me?

The horror I felt as I ran
As my shadow ran after me
They all ran after me
Everyone sees but no one helps

But of course no one knows
