

Celestial Floods

Invent, Animate

Engraved in stone, we've been dethroned
No longer the kings and queens; we've become outgrown
As I roam through eternity I let go of control
Another day, another night, pass me by
My uncertainty always comes to light
I build my walls up, to lay them to rest
Always coming out on the other side, with even less

We are what takes our time; so take all of mine
We have become outgrown
I thought I'd live a thousand lives, before I'd ever feel this way
The night can't last forever
And we're running out of days
This feeling is here to stay;
Tear me away
I build my walls up, to lay them to rest
Always coming out on the other side, with even less

In my rise, I will not falter
In my rise, I will never stop
Constantly pushing myself beyond unrest, the only constant becomes a mess
A question can never be the answer
Celestial floods
With every step
I would lose everything
To see you live on

I thought I'd live a thousand lives, before I'd ever feel this way
The night can't last forever
And we're running out of days
This feeling is here to stay;
Tear me away
I'll burn so bright, forget about the night
I'll burn so bright, remember me when I am gone

Celestial floods, with every step

The luster loses its shine;
I'll never lose mine, I'll never lose mine
