

Cloud Cascade

Invent, Animate

Your cloud hovers over me
Oceans of grey
Blanket the flashing light
Drawing the curtains closed
I forge a shelter yet it drenches me
Torrential downpour endlessly

Casting a shade on purity
Forging a shelter, it drenches me
So tell me, do you believe
Do you believe you can love me?

Stargazing under the darkness of my roof
The clouds blot out the pale moonlight
"As surely as the sun rises"
Says the cloud to her moon

I know it wasn't good for me
The way the rain showered me lonely
Did you believe
You could love me?

The heavens break
Cloud cascade
Quench the torch on my own skin
So I can stand in her storm
Tide shifting, earth shakes
Crashing from the weight of gravity

Casting a shade on purity
Forging a shelter, it drenches me
So tell me, do you believe?
Do you believe you can love me?

Water stands on my skin
Runs my blood cold, yet I will never hide

Stargazing under the darkness of my roof
The clouds blot out the pale moonlight
"As surely as the sun rises"
Your cloud hovers over me
Drawing the curtains closed
