Invent, Animate

Lost souls collide to find everything unsound
All that's lost is here on the ground
I can't be found
Wanderer, I can't be found
Shrouded in secrecy;
A face you can't see
I am the enigma of the everchanging
My veins, the trees, and the in between
I've come to realize that's it's all in sync
Within the deep of the night
When lost souls collide
There you will find me wandering endlessly

Night feelings settle in
I'm falling deeper and I can't pretend
I don't know where I am anymore
And I'm closing every open door
Tear this weary mind to pieces
So drown me out
I'm filled with doubt
Maybe I'll burn
Maybe I'll never learn
Disconnect, recollect
I'll disconnect
I'm feeling lost and it feels okay
Still getting darker every day
Drown me
Drown me out
Drown me

Night feelings, settle in
I'm falling deeper and I'll break and bend
I am not what I was to begin
There's still so much to find in the end
Maybe there's peace in being lost
Maybe there's hurt in being home
Maybe there's hurt in being home
I can't be found
