

Don't believe in love
It will let you down
I believe in loss
When I hear
When I hear the sound

I felt it once, when I was young
And so indifferent to all the things
Being pushed my way again and again

It intertwines
In a perfect world there would be purity
Perfect moon, perfect sun, together in harmony
We're living in all this fire

Ignore the ether

It's much too far away
The feeling of loss is what I know too well
Send me back to the sky and I will start anew
Detrimental bliss
I would give it all up to start again
Lost track of time
And if I had the chance
I would lose it all
I would lose it all again
As rooted as I am

Don't believe in love
It will let you down
I believe in loss
When I hear
When I hear the sound

The song in the distance
Let me down
Let me down
Let me down, let me down gently
I'm not blind this time

Love let me down again
I don't believe a thing
Love let me down again
I won't believe a fucking thing I hear ever again

Pull me back in the dark
It's been calling me for years
I've been taking my time
And I push it aside
Pull me back in the dark
It's been calling me for years
It's been taking my time

And it's taking my life
Pull me back into the dark
Pull me back into the dark

Pull me back
