

I've got no sorrow left for your saviours
No sympathy
Right back where the scene's at to give you that
News flash
Your shit just sounds weak
The stains on your teeth betray the lies you spit
Selling souls just to feed the habit

You feel the warning crawling straight up your spine
The cancer growing in the back of your mind
Heaven knows I can't save ya
Doomed to fall into failure

Cherish the misery
No poison so bittersweet
You're drowning as you beg and you plea
Just a slave to the heresy

I know I can find you
Kicked back with a pack and a fat rack
Now you wanna tell me that you wish you never hit that Hate is all you have
It's all you'll ever know

And if you could, then you would, but you don't
At least in hell, you can claim your throne
(You can claim your throne)
At least in hell, you can claim your throne

Cherish the misery
No poison so bittersweet
You're drowning as you beg and you plea
We're all just slaves to the heresy

You feel the warning crawling straight up your spine
The cancer growing in the back of your mind
Heaven knows I can't save ya
Doomed to fall into failure

Buried alive, you live a fucking life so low
It's all you'll ever know
Life so low
