

Good For Nothing

InVisions

Hear me, I'm screaming for a clearer conscience
See me, I'm slipping back into the obscene (Back into the obscene)
I want it all, I want it all but at what cost?
Am I lost, double crossed? Yeah I'm counting on it
Deal me in, fatal sin and I'm begging for it
I said you'd never see me fall
I'm falling deeper but I've been here before

Can't let it go because it's always the same
It's like I needed to feel the pain
This hollow thought buried beneath my skin
I always find myself right back here again

Remember when everything was just a roll of the dice?
No second guessing, hesitating, never had to think twice
I never asked for this but I won't change it 'cause I've learned to love it
Just a low life good for nothing
(I'm falling deeper but I've been here before)

Can't let it go because it's always the same
It's like I needed to feel the pain
This hollow thought buried beneath my skin
I always find myself right back here again

We're all searching for something
Another reason to believe
That the life that we're living
Isn't all that could be
I know this feels like the answer
But it's not what it seems
I'm not the cure to the darkness
Don't put your faith in me
Don't put your faith in me

All that I've been through, everything I do
Leads me back 'round to the Lack of dominion, my jaded opinion
Corruptible

Can't let it go because it's always the same
I'm falling deeper but I've been here before
It's like I needed to feel the pain

Can't let it go because it's always the same
It's like I needed to feel the pain
This hollow thought buried beneath my skin
I always find myself right back here again

We're all searching for something
Another reason to believe
That the life that we're living
Isn't all that could be
I know this feels like the answer
But it's not what it seems
I'm not the cure to the darkness
Don't put your faith in me
Don't put your faith in me

Don't put your faith in me
