

Last Light

InVisions

I've seen the last light learning
To build a temple; just watch it burning
'Cause when we sleep and when we dream, we still believe
Nobody's gonna hear you scream

So ask yourself when you're alone
Is this everything
You ever wanted to be and what does it mean
If anything?
We're all just falling out of frequency
Slave to the static for eternity

Tell me, who made the measure?
Cause it's a lonely place to live forever
Are we just chasing dead air
Holding our breath until we taste the pressure?

Condemn me until I'm guilty
Hate me until it fucking kills me
We're all just falling out of frequency
Slave to the static for eternity

You are the friction, I'm the fuel that makes it flammable
Without conviction, you conditioned us like animals

You'll see my face on the news
Don't you be getting confused
I'm on the loose
Don't have a thing left to lose
Nothing left for me to prove

I've seen the last light learning
I've seen the last light learning
To build a temple; just watch it burning

Tell me who made the measure?
'Cause it's a lonely place to live forever
Are we just chasing dead air
Holding our breath until we taste the pressure?

So here's my
Word to the wise; don't close your eyes
No time to die, so live a lie with me
The more I try, I realise
No time to die, so live a lie with me

We're all wasted, worthless and weak

We're all wasted, worthless and fucking weak
We're all just so fucking weak
