

All hope is not lost

You are the plague inside of my head
This reckless torment is a noose round my neck
I'm on the edge but not all hope is lost
I am an addict, got to have it, no matter the cost

I've had a taste and I just thirst for more
Toxic addiction I don't wanna ignore
This kinda way I've never felt before
I'm losing my mind

All I know is I can't stay
And I would give up everything I have to make you feel the same
I know it's wrong, I still can't move on
I'm on my own, just tell me there's an easier way

The time it slips through my fingers like sand
I'm fucking trying but I don't understand
I warn myself all the boundaries are crossed
I am an addict, got to have it, no matter the cost

I've had a taste and I just thirst for more
Toxic addiction I don't wanna ignore
This kinda way I've never felt before
I'm losing my mind

All I know is I can't stay
And I would give up everything I have to make you feel the same
I know it's wrong, I still can't move on
I'm on my own, just tell me there's an easier way

All I've got is hope that one day I can be enough
Cause I can't find a way to open up
My broken soul I'm sick of dreaming of
Rewinding the clock

All I've got is hope that one day I can be enough
Cause I can't find a way to open up
My broken soul I'm sick of dreaming of
Rewinding the clock

All I've got is hope that one day I can be enough
Cause I can't find a way to open up
My broken soul I'm sick of dreaming of
Rewinding the clock
