Unbreakable

InVisions

I'll always fear the fall but the fire still remains

I know we've been here before but the fire still remains
Let's start again

I don't give a fuck about you, I've learnt to grow without you
Leave the past behind me, and I don't hear a word you say

But you hear victory calling me, just know that
Yeah you're all living a lie, until you die from the truth

Yeah, here we go
I will shine a light upon the grave of your broken ways

And I don't blame myself
But everybody else
The faults lay in my heart
Cause when I tore myself apart
I let the crowd see I'm unbreakable
And I'm unstoppable

Through my eyes I only wish you could see
Because I have been set free
And they say it's not all it's cracked up to be
I'll fucking prove them wrong I am not like the others

Take a stand
I'll face my problems with my
Open Hands
And it won't be the death of me

So who are you to tell me who I should be
Take a look at yourself before you criticize me

And I don't blame myself
But everybody else
The faults lay in my heart
Cause when I tore myself apart
I let the crowd see I'm unbreakable
And I'm unstoppable

I won't be alone
Once the king has claimed his throne

I'm not fucking around
I'm just ahead of the crowd
You can't stop me know
You're just slowing me down

I'm not fucking around
I'm not fucking around
You're just slowing me down

I won't be alone
For the king has claimed his throne

And I don't blame myself

But everybody else
The faults lay in my heart
Cause when I tore myself apart
I let the crowd see I'm unbreakable
I let the crowd see I'm unbreakable
And I'm unstoppable see less
