

forgive her

ionnalee

There is a space beyond the lights
Underneath the melting ice
I know how to get there
In my dreams only at night

Greeted by warm and friendly smiles
Faces I've never seen and I
Don't wanna know their affairs
They rip my seems I hand them my knives

I think we're running out of time
Can't claim a space that isn't mine
My seat at the table
Lacks my initials, say I

I think they've never known love
Like when you cannot feel enough
The forces of implosion
A million pieces where there was heart

There's a way into the mouth of my river
There's a door and it's open wide
Forgive her
There's a time and space for us
So don't linger

Rules we lived by as our truth now don't matter
And the north wind won't take no
For an answer
On the cliffs of the western walls
I'm your dancer
