

Goin' Down To Sing In Texas

Iris DeMent

I'm going down to sing in Texas where anybody can carry a gun
But we will all be so much safer there, the biggest lie under the sun
Go ahead and shoot me if it floats your little boat
But I'll live by my conscience even if that's all she wrote
I'm going down to sing in Texas where anybody can carry a gun

It's been way too long comin' but I want to thank The Chicks
They found out what it's like to be a woman and defy the establishment
Merle Haggard, Willie Nelson, any guy in a cowboy hat
Woulda walked away unscathed takin' a stand like that
Well it's been way too long coming but I want to thank The Chicks

I'm so glad Jesus drove those moneychangers out of the church
He did not mince his words for fear that their feelings might get hurt
He spoke truth to power, He stood up for the poor
The church today wouldn't even let him through the door
I'm so glad Jesus drove those moneychangers out of the church

I know a couple of Muslims and they seem like pretty decent folks to me
I'd take anyone of them over that evangelist I'm watchin' on T.V.
You wanna ban something? I got a plan
Let's ban hate from every corner of our land
Well I know a couple of Muslims and they seem like decent folks to me

What's the deal with all these war criminals who get to walk around free
Like that president who lied about WMD
Hundreds of thousands of people are lying in their graves
Celebrities are calling him the sweet new friend they made
Well, what's the deal with all these war criminals out walkin' around free

I just wanna say thank you to those brave women in The Squad
Everyday their lives are jeopardized by that hate monger and his mob
But when you care about something that's bigger than you
Even the fires of hell ain't too much to go walking through
And I just wanna say thank you to those brave women in The Squad

Ain't we all just a little bit tired of greedy people gettin' a free pass
Hoarding obscene amounts of wealth, riding on everybody else's back
Hey Mr. Bezos, I'm talking to you
That flimsy veil you're wearing is so easy to see through
Aren't we all just a little bit tired of greedy people gettin' a free pass

How many more people of color are we gonna let be gunned down by police
How many more perpetrators are we gonna sit back and watch walk free
You took a knee to stand up for your rights
I want you to know that I'm right there by your side
And how many more people of color we are gonna let be gunned down by police

I know I'm just a pilgrim, I'm only passing through
It's a choice I'm making tryin' to be true
I don't know if there's a Judgment Day or a master plan
But I wanna be ready if before the Lord I stand
And I know I'm just a pilgrim, only passing through

I'm going down to sing in Texas where anybody can carry a gun
But we will all be so much safer there, the biggest lie under the sun
Go ahead and shoot me if it floats your little boat

But I'll live by my conscience even if that's all she wrote
I'm going down to sing in Texas where anybody can carry a gun
I'm going down to sing in Arkansas where anybody can carry a gun
I'm going up to sing in Michigan where anybody can carry a gun
My mama told me, "You can run to the rocks and try to hide your face
But those rocks will cry out, 'There ain't no hiding place'"
So I'll go on down and sing in Texas where anybody can carry a gun
