

Annie, Would I Lie To You

Iris

If I'm out of touch and need reminding
Just tell me I have been found
I'm walking to a new dimension
I have left familiar ground
All the things I do
They may seem to you
As false behaviour but I can't Really change your mind
This is my time
Annie, you would not understand

I've become blind
Have I lost my mind?
Yes and no but
Annie, would I lie to you?
I've got control
This is my show
Listen to me
Annie, would I lie to you?

Somebody filled my hands with enough illusion
They have let me out to play
When you see my lie back in temptation's arms
And have it all my way
I still have my name
I still have my face
I have not run away from home
Does it seem so wrong
If I now embrace
Every single thing I've never known

I've become blind
Have I lost my mind?
Yes and no but
Annie, would I lie to you?
I've got control
This is my show
Listen to me
Annie, would I lie to you?

And tonight I'll stray
I'll go too far
Only in your eyes
And for my own good
All I knew will soon be dying
