

Thunderbolts!

Iron Chic

We're in the shadows, throwing rocks that
Land upon a window pane
Somewhere close, a window breaks, and
Broken glass lets in the rain
We run and hide
While we bide our time
We whisper in the dark
"Give us one more try"

Imagine our surprise
When the darkness answered back

We're not finished here
Don't walk into that light
We can't let them hear
Hear us screaming for our lives
We don't play fair
No, we don't play at all
We walk the edge (Oh, oh-oh)
And never fall

We broke our bones
And we sank like stones
We drank our toast
Here's to never coming home

Imagine our surprise
The fear in our eyes
When the darkness answered back

We're not finished here
Don't walk into that light
We can't let them hear
Hear us screaming for our lives
We don't play fair
No, we don't play at all
We walk the edge (Oh, oh-oh)
And never fall
