True Miserable Experience

Iron Chic

We were singin' "Hey Jealousy"
We drove through town and let the cops chase us around
Kind of day we only get once in our lives
We were burstin' with energy
All the weight in the world couldn't keep us down
Never let up, never let them get us alive

We're not lookin' for sympathy
In fact, we're all out of fucks to give
And we'll just be indifferently
Waiting here for the tide to shift
We were crushing our enemies
Took all the pain in the world and made a crown

We're not lookin' for sympathy
In fact, we're all out of fucks to give
And we'll just be indifferently
Waiting here for the world to disappear (Yeah)

If I know one thing
It's how to waste my time
And if you've taught me anything
It's not to waste my life
We're here right now, and that's all that counts
Or so it goes
Made up our minds to make our mess
We do our best to not die alone

We're not lookin' for anything
We're too busy biting feeding hands
And I found an epiphany
In the eyes of a dying man
We'll be waiting indifferently
We can wait for eternity
