

Final Warning

Iron Fire

Walking so blind on a trail of tears
Empire of the damned, created by fear
Warning signs appear all around
The coming curse, the hammer will pound
A tide of blood a wave and rage
Nowhere to run when all hell engage
The time is up, the end is near
In a storm of gore, the devil appears

When all is said and done
And there is nobody left that cares
To close to the burning sun
We are all part of the nightmare

When the children cry in vain
When the angels burn in pain
When the black sky is falling down like rain
We all know the time is running out
Abusing the earth without a doubt
Will we ever see a new day dawning
After the final warning

Final warning

Constructing the lies, marching the slaves
Spinning the wheel, the power we crave
Corrupting the truth, twisting the net
Rolling the dice, with the mind of the dead
Political crime, enforce genocide
Turning the game, public paralyze
The devil's puppeteer, the hand of the lord
Self-deception, greet get on board

When all is said and done
And there is nobody left that cares
To close to the burning sun
We are all part of the nightmare

When the children cry in vain
When the angels burn in pain
When the black sky is falling down like rain
We all know the time is running out
Abusing the earth without a doubt
Will we ever see a new day dawning
After the final warning
