

Rising from Ashes

Iron Savior

Once I was walking beneath the sun
Anticipating the things to come
A peaceful life in harmony
In the golden age of prosperity
Then came the day when the shadow fell
Orchestrating the sound of the knell
With treason, hate and debauchery
And how I was praying for sanctuary

And now the skies are turning gray
Facing demise on the final days
The final days

From the ashes (From the ashes)
From fire and ice
From the oblivion
We gonna rise
And from the ashes
Of death and demise
Farewell until the day
We gonna rise again

Raging wars are lashing the land
The apocalypse by mortal hand
All eating fires are burning bright
Bringing on the night

No escape from our bitter fate
Death and doom and hell awaits
Downfall and decay until the final days
The final days

From the ashes (From the ashes)
From fire and ice
From the oblivion
We gonna rise
And from the ashes
Of death and demise
Farewell until the day
We gonna rise again

From the ashes, death and demise
From the oblivion we gonna rise
Farewell until the prophecy
Shall be fulfilling our destiny

But now the skies are turning gray
Facing demise on the final days
The final days

From the ashes (From the ashes)
From fire and ice
From the oblivion
We gonna rise

From the ashes (From the ashes)

From the oblivion
We gonna rise
And from the ashes
Of death and demise
